MEDITATION

July 28, 2024

17th Sunday in Ordinary Time

When the people saw the sign...(John 6:14)

When John uses the word “sign,” it’s important. It’s like a neon light flashing, “Pay attention!” John uses this word to refer to Jesus’ mighty deeds, and he wants these signs to lead us to deeper faith in Jesus (John 2:11).

Today’s sign is a case in point. Jesus feeds the five thousand, and every detail reveals more about who he is. First, he crosses the sea and takes his disciples up a mountain like a new Moses (John 6:1-3). Then John tells us that the time of the Passover was near—a feast commemorating God’s covenant with Israel through Moses (6:4). Next, just as Moses asked, “Where can I get meat to give to all this people?” (Numbers 11:13), Jesus asks Philip, “Where can we buy enough food for them to Eat? (John 6:5).

Jesus also echoes the actions of the prophet Elisha, whose story we hear in today’s first reading. Elisha fed one hundred people with some barley loaves (2 Kings 4:42-44). Jesus outdoes Elisha and feeds five thousand people, with twelve baskets of fragments left over (John 6:11-13).

Everything about this sign speaks of the abundance of God’s provision for his people. It shows the kind of Messiah Jesus is. Not only does he fulfill all that Moses and the prophets foreshadowed, but he surpasses them. No wonder the people proclaimed him “the one who is to come into the world” (John 6:14)!

Jesus wants to help you come to believe in him, know him personally, and experience his abundance. Just as he gave signs to his disciples, he gives you signs to help you grow in faith. They’re all around you, and Jesus loves to help you recognize them. So ask the Spirit to open your eyes to see the Lord’s power, faithfulness, and love in your life—and rejoice! They may not be neon signs, but they will help you grow to believe in Jesus more and more each day.

“Thank you, Lord, for the signs of your presence all around me!”

more from École Saint-Louis’ Principal Sr. Paul Mary Savard, (+July 9, 2014) ‘As far as fire safety, the principal was the official fire alarm. A large hand bell was kept on a shelf on the third floor lobby. When needed for a fire drill, the principal would leave her classroom, call the fire department, and then ring the bell for which everyone returned to, or stayed in, their classroom. They were to close the heavy classroom doors and open the windows to wait quietly for the fire department across the street to come to the windows to rescue them. If an evacuation was necessary, the bell and the teacher would tell the children to leave the building as orderly as possible and they were to assemble by the playground. If it was just a fire drill, they were to go to their classroom and stay there. Fortunately, we only had one real fire alarm. There was a small fire in the parish hall that was next to the school. Since the fire was not in the school, we were told to assemble safely and orderly. The problem was with the huge fire engines. They came out of the fire department across the street with such speed and force that they couldn’t take the turn into the school driveway. They had to drive three blocks beyond the hall before they could make a turn! When they finally got to our address, the fire was quickly extinguished; very little damage but a lot of red faces.

Sr. Severina taught 2nd grade. To help children become better readers she paired a proficient reader with one who had difficulty with oral reading. She’d send the children in groups of six to sit in the lunchroom to practice oral reading. They were to stay at the table and read until she came to get them. Unfortunately, the fire district chose that particular time to conduct a safety inspection to evaluate the fire drill process. The instruction was given to evacuate and everyone did but the six 2nd graders reading in the lunchroom. When the fireman came to inspect the empty school, there they were sitting quietly and reading to each other. The fireman told them to leave the building but the children refused: “Sister told us to stay until she came. You are not Sr. Severina.” The fireman had to get me to convince the children that it would be ok to leave.’ edited for space.
